

DECIMAL POINT
Innovative Research Solutions

AssetPulse

Global MacroView
Summary

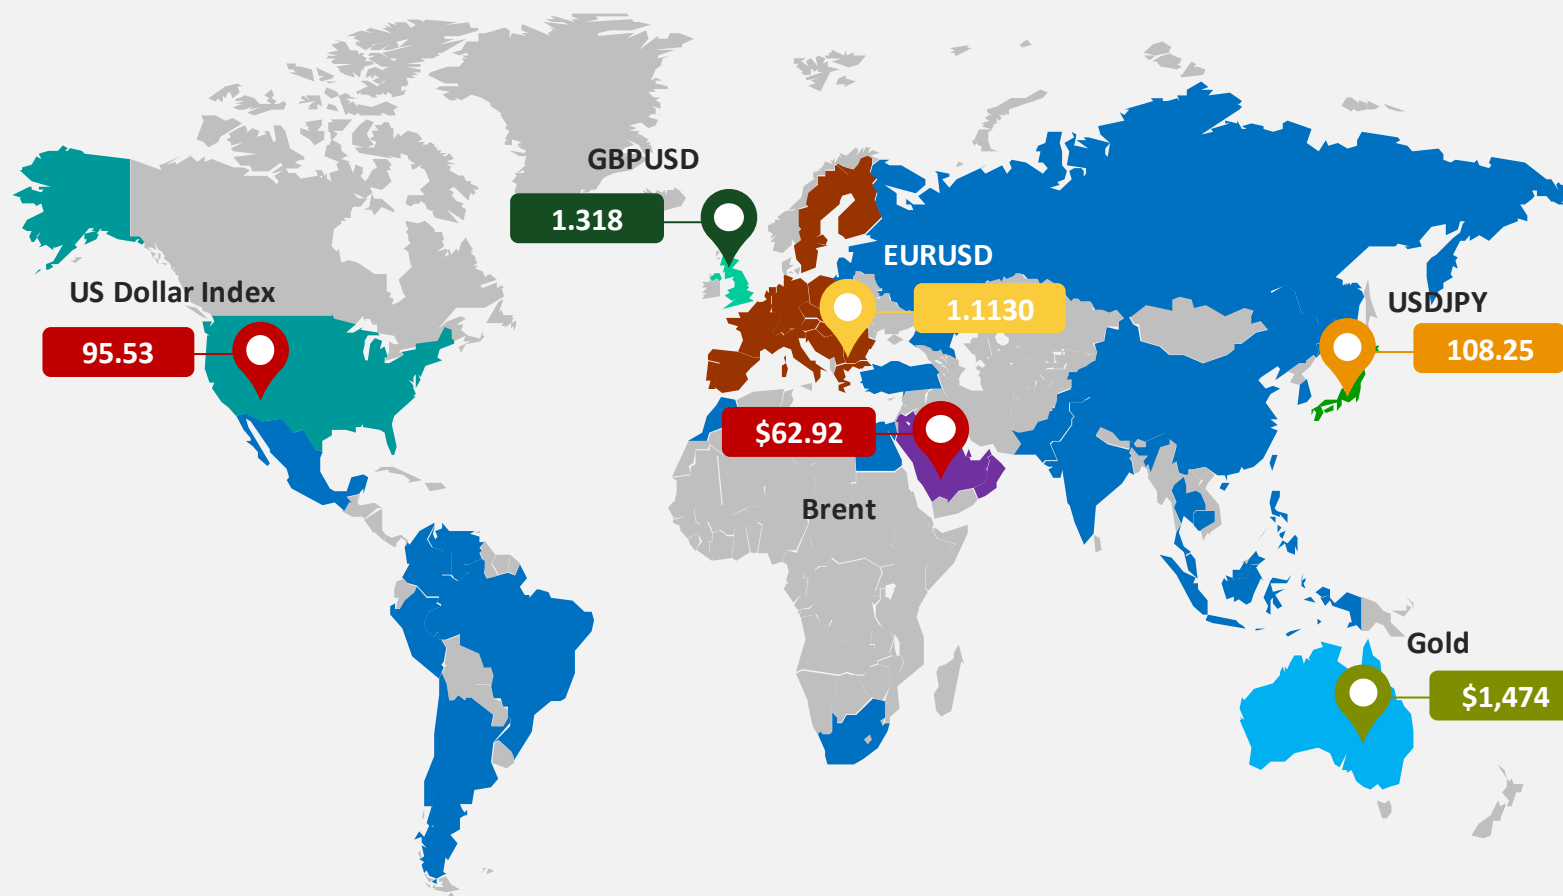

12 December 2019

- US
- GCC
- UK
- Japan
- Australia
- Eurozone
- EM

- US
- GCC
- UK
- Japan
- Australia
- Eurozone
- EM

- Bullish
- Neutral
- Bearish
- Underweight
- Overweight

| Asset Classes                           | 12-Jun-19 | 11-Sep-19 | 11-Dec-19 | 6 Month Returns | 3 Month Returns |
|---|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Equities                         |           |           |           |                 |                 |
| US Equites (S&P 500)                    | 2879.84   | 3000.93   | 3141.63   | 9.1%            | 4.7%            |
| Eurozone Equities (Stoxx 600)           | 379.74    | 389.71    | 406.22    | 7.0%            | 4.2%            |
| Emerging Equities (MSCI EM Index)       | 1026.24   | 1017.04   | 1049.50   | 2.3%            | 3.2%            |
| GCC equities (MSCI GCC Countries Index) | 608.32    | 545.63    | 554.38    | -8.9%           | 1.6%            |
| Currency                         |           |           |           |                 |                 |
| USD ($ Index)                          | 97.00     | 98.65     | 97.13     | 0.1%            | -1.5%           |
| EUR vs. USD                             | 1.1287    | 1.1010    | 1.1130    | -1.4%           | 1.1%            |
| USD vs. JPY                             | 108.50    | 107.82    | 108.56    | 0.1%            | 0.7%            |
| GBP vs. USD                             | 1.2689    | 1.2326    | 1.3196    | 4.0%            | 7.1%            |
| Fixed Income                     |           |           |           |                 |                 |
| US 10yr Sovereign                       | 2.13      | 1.75      | 1.79      | -34             | 4               |
| Europe Core Area (German 10 Yr)         | -0.23     | -0.57     | -0.31     | -8              | 26              |
| Europe Peripheral Area (Italy 10 Yr)    | 2.43      | 0.97      | 1.20      | -123            | 23              |
| Commodities                      |           |           |           |                 |                 |
| Gold                                    | 1333.58   | 1497.2    | 1474.88   | 10.6%           | -1.5%           |
| Brent                                   | 59.97     | 60.81     | 63.72     | 6.3%            | 4.8%            |

* Change in bps for fixed income

Consensus Target Price for S&P 500 Index

S&P 500 Index Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

S&P 500 Index Key Parameters

|                    | Actual  | 2019 TP  | 2020 TP |
|--------------------|---------|----------|---------|
| S&P 500*           | 3141.63 | 2,941.56 | 3280.00 |
| PE (x)             | 20.90   | 18.28    | 17.41   |
| EPS ($)           | 150.28  | 171.83   | 180.46  |
| Dividend Yield (%) | 1.86    | 2.36     | 2.01    |
| Price/Book (x)     | 3.51    | 3.41     | 3.18    |
| EV/EBITDA (x)      | 13.65   | 12.36    | 11.85   |

*Value as on 11 December 2019

S&P 500 Index Returns

| Q4 2018 | Q1 2019 | Q2 2019 | Q3 2019 | QTD  |
|---------|---------|---------|---------|------|
| -14.0%  | 13.1%   | 3.8%    | 1.2%    | 5.5% |

Positive View

- There is reduced risk of US recession
- A moderately positive earnings outlook
- A supportive policy mix
- Valuations appear reasonable

Negative View

- Rising political and policy uncertainty
- Fading fiscal stimulus
- Concerns around the trade war escalation

S&P 500 2019 Index Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|------------|--|
| Candrium Investments             | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>US equities remains a relatively safe choice</li> <li>Valuation are higher than in other regions, but the risk premium seems adequate for now</li> </ul>  |
| Bank of America                  | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>S&amp;P EPS are forecast to grow 8% to $177 at the year-end</li> <li>Returns will likely be driven solely by corporate earnings vs. price-to-earnings multiple expansions</li> </ul>   |
| BlackRock                        | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A supportive policy mix and the prospect of an extended cycle underpin the positive view</li> <li>Valuations appear reasonable</li> </ul>   |
| UBS Asset Management             | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Should economic data weaken, the Fed has more leeway to act than the ECB</li> <li>Consensus expectations for earnings growth look more realistic in the US than in the Eurozone</li> </ul>  |
| Goldman Sachs                    | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The longest bull market in modern US history will continue in 2020</li> <li>The durable profit cycle and continued economic expansion will lift the S&amp;P 500 index by 5% to 3,250 in early 2020</li> <li>However, rising political and policy uncertainty will keep the index range-bound for most of 2020</li> </ul>  |
| JP Morgan Asset Management       | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The broker favours US large cap stocks</li> <li>They can do relatively well under a range of scenarios</li> <li>The broker expects a breakthrough in Sino-US trade talks</li> <li>There is reduced risk of US recession</li> <li>A moderately positive earnings outlook</li> </ul>  |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Domestic economic expansion will persist, although there could be some hiccups as the 10-year-old cycle ages</li> <li>There are muted expectations for S&amp;P 500 earnings growth in 2020</li> <li>A modest advance in earnings and revenues, combined with a still-expanding economy, should be “good enough” to provide a foundation for somewhat higher US equity prices in 2020</li> <li>Valuations are above average, but not unreasonable</li> </ul> |

Consensus Target Price for Stoxx 600 Index

Stoxx 600 Index Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

Stoxx 600 Index Key Parameters

|                    | Actual | 2019 TP | 2020 TP |
|--------------------|--------|---------|---------|
| Eurostoxx 600*     | 406.22 | 372.00  | -       |
| PE (x)             | 20.16  | 15.01   | 14.42   |
| EPS (€)            | 20.15  | 27.06   | 28.16   |
| Dividend Yield (%) | 3.62   | 3.73    | 3.68    |
| Price/Book (x)     | 1.87   | 1.74    | 1.67    |
| EV/EBITDA (x)      | 10.52  | 9.56    | 9.22    |

*Value as on 11 December 2019

Stoxx 600 Index Returns

| Q4 2018 | Q1 2019 | Q2 2019 | Q3 2019 | QTD  |
|---------|---------|---------|---------|------|
| -11.8%  | 12.2%   | 1.5%    | 2.2%    | 3.3% |

Positive View

- European equity valuations are attractive compared to the US
- Improving macroeconomic environment and financial conditions
- Mild earnings recovery

Negative View

- Trade disputes
- A slowing China
- Political uncertainty across the region—along with global growth concerns—have impacted European equities

Stoxx 600 2019 Index Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|------------|--|
| Candrium Investments             | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The latest macro data show signs of resilience and a bottoming out in the economy</li> <li>A window of opportunity on fiscal accommodation is staying open with more ECB visibility</li> </ul>  |
| Wells Fargo                      | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Valuations have risen, making European equities less attractive</li> <li>However, they remain at reasonable levels</li> <li>Overall economic growth remains weak</li> <li>Political uncertainty across the region—along with global growth and trade concerns—have impacted European equities</li> </ul>  |
| BlackRock                        | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>European risk assets are modestly overpriced versus the macro backdrop</li> <li>The dovish shift by the ECB should provide an offset</li> <li>Trade disputes, a slowing China and political risks are key challenges</li> </ul>   |
| Union Bancaire Privee (UBP)      | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>With the Brexit-related overhang set to ease, both UK and continental European equities stand to benefit from fiscal policy momentum moving into the new year</li> <li>Although investors have sought refuge in global European/UK corporates over the past year, a pivot to more domestic companies is emerging as an opportunity as these headwinds fade</li> </ul> |
| Barclays                         | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>European equity valuations are attractive compared to the US</li> <li>There is a blend of light positioning, an improving macroeconomic environment and financial conditions</li> <li>Mild earnings recovery</li> <li>Attractive valuations</li> <li>The Stoxx 600 index is expected to hit 430 by the end of 2020</li> </ul>   |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The US-China trade tensions-induced slowdown is showing signs of abating and the economy could be close to bottoming</li> <li>Political headwinds, such as a populist government in Italy and a hard Brexit have not materialized</li> </ul>  |

2 year Performance of major GCC Indices***

*Data has been rebased to 100

2 year Performance of benchmark BRICS Indices***

*Data has been rebased to 100

MSCI GCC Index Key Parameters

|                            | Actual | 2019 TP | 2020 TP |
|----------------------------|--------|---------|---------|
| MSCI GCC Countries Index * | 554.38 | 566.81  | -       |
| PE (x)                     | 15.83  | 15.19   | 14.19   |
| EPS ($)                   | 35.03  | 36.49   | 39.07   |
| Dividend Yield (%)         | 4.06   | 4.38    | 4.33    |
| Price/Book (x)             | 1.78   | 1.58    | 1.5     |

*Value as on 11 December 2019

MSCI EM Index Key Parameters

|                               | Actual  | 2019 TP | 2020 TP |
|-------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|
| MSCI Emerging Markets Index * | 1049.50 | 1209.66 | -       |
| PE (x)                        | 14.79   | 13.15   | 12.32   |
| EPS ($)                      | 71.57   | 80.46   | 85.89   |
| Dividend Yield (%)            | 2.78    | 3.00    | 3.13    |
| Price/Book (x)                | 1.62    | 1.60    | 1.47    |
| EV/EBITDA (x)                 | 9.4     | 8.77    | 8.63    |

*Value as on 11 December 2019

MSCI GCC Index Returns

| Q4 2018 | Q1 2019 | Q2 2019 | Q3 2019 | QTD  |
|---------|---------|---------|---------|------|
| -0.9%   | 9.3%    | 0.5%    | -7.0%   | 0.9% |

MSCI EM Index Returns

| Q4 2018 | Q1 2019 | Q2 2019 | Q3 2019 | QTD  |
|---------|---------|---------|---------|------|
| -7.8%   | 9.6%    | -0.3%   | -5.1%   | 4.9% |

Positive View

- GCC's banking system is driven mainly by strong capital buffers
- Government spending programs are expected to push average non-hydrocarbon GDP growth to 2.6% in 2020

Negative View

- Geopolitical risk
- There are expectations of new problem loans in the construction and real estate sectors

Positive View

- EM equities are cheap and are a good investment bet for 2020
- A dovish US Fed is a tailwind as the USD weakens somewhat

Negative View

- There are overly optimistic market expectations for Chinese stimulus
- Worldwide manufacturing slowdown

| Asset Class  |         |
|--|---------|
| Emerging Market Equities (MSCI EM Index)    |         |
| Analyst expectations                        |         |
| Average  | 1209.66 |
| Bloomberg Consensus Target Price For MSCI EM Index | 1209.66 |
| As on 11 December 2019                      |         |
| % Change from Current levels compared to avg       | 15.26%  |

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)  |
|----------------------------------|------------|---|
| Candrium Investments             | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The region has underperformed year-to-date and could offer some upside</li> <li>A dovish US Fed is a tailwind as the USD weakens somewhat</li> </ul>   |
| Morgan Stanley                   | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>While tensions remain in the Sino-US relationship, the level/breadth of tariff imposition may be peaking, helping natural cyclical recovery forces to come into play in Asia after two tough years</li> <li>The USD has finally begun to turn and is expected to further decline in 2020</li> <li>2020 could be a year of portfolio reallocation to EM equities</li> </ul> |
| BlackRock                        | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>There are overly optimistic market expectations for Chinese stimulus</li> <li>The greatest opportunities exist in Latin America, such as in Mexico and Brazil, where valuations are attractive and the macro backdrop is stable</li> <li>An accommodative Fed offers support across the board, particularly for EM countries with large external debt loads</li> </ul>     |

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |                   | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|-------------------|--|
| Credit Suisse                    | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Demand for EM equities have risen, owing to worries over China’s slowdown and trade concerns</li> <li>• EM equities are cheap and are a good investment bet for 2020</li> <li>• Within EMs, India remains one of the high conviction ideas</li> </ul>   |
| UBS Asset Management             | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Chinese and Asian bonds are a “prize pot” opportunity away from expensive developed markets’ debt</li> <li>• There are going to be improvements in ex-US growth</li> </ul>  |
| Amundi Pioneer                   | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Earnings revisions are bottoming out</li> <li>• Domestic stories are expected to remain resilient and provide good opportunities for investors</li> <li>• The broker is constructive on China A-shares</li> </ul>   |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 2020 may prove to be another eventful year for Chinese stocks, as market participants will look for clues on whether the country can contain economic downside risks</li> <li>• Hong Kong’s IPO market has been staging a notable comeback and the trend may persist</li> </ul>   |
| Neuberger Berman                 | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Strength in the USD</li> <li>• US-China trade dispute</li> <li>• Worldwide manufacturing slowdown</li> </ul>  |
| Mirae Asset Global Investments   | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Further easing by global central banks and a temporary truce in the Sino-US trade war make EM equities attractive</li> <li>• The broker broadly favours markets in India, Vietnam, China, South Korea, Indonesia and the Philippines</li> <li>• Sectors include semiconductor stocks, banks, financials, insurance and real estate</li> <li>• The recent tax cuts in India and Indonesia are positive</li> <li>• Tax cuts will rekindle a positive investment climate and attract businesses as they look for an alternate manufacturing base from China in light of the trade war</li> </ul> |

| Asset Class   |        |
|---|--------|
| GCC Equities (MSCI GCC Countries Index)      |        |
| Analyst expectations                         |        |
| Average   | 566.81 |
| Bloomberg Consensus Target Price For MSCI GCC Index | 566.81 |
| As on 11 December 2019                              | 554.38 |
| % Change from Current levels compared to avg        | 2.24%  |

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |                    | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|--------------------|--|
| Moody's Investor Services        | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>GCC's banking system is driven mainly by strong capital buffers, solid economic growth and substantial liquidity</li> <li>Government spending programs are expected to push average non-hydrocarbon GDP growth to 2.6% in 2020</li> <li>Declining interest rates will start to pressure banks' net interest margins but margins will remain strong compared with global peers</li> <li>At the end of 2020, the broker expects non-performing loans to slightly rise to 3.5% from 3.3% in 2019</li> <li>The ratings agency forecasts to see new problem loans in the construction and real estate sectors</li> </ul> |
| Daman Investments                | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Saudi stocks have been losing momentum as passive inflows, triggered by the nation's inclusion in major EM benchmarks fade</li> <li>Companies' earnings, especially petrochemicals, have been under pressure</li> </ul>   |
| S&P Global Ratings               | Bullish     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Rated banks in the GCC region should maintain stable financial profiles in 2020, barring any major increase in geopolitical risk or a sharp fall in oil prices</li> <li>GCC banks will successfully navigate a less-than-favorable macroeconomic environment in 2020 supported by their solid financial profiles</li> </ul>   |

Consensus Target for US 10 Year

US 10 Year Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

Spread Graph for US 10 Yr - 3 month and 30 Yr - 10 Yr

Positive View

Negative View

- Long-term government bonds are an effective ballast against risk asset selloffs
- US rates are expected to lead the way in 2020, with downside risks somewhat diminished and higher repricing likely

- Gravitational pull of negative global yields, slowing growth and low inflation
- Market expectations of Fed easing look excessive

US Treasuries 10 Year Target Yield for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |             | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|-------------|--|
| Bank of America                  | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>US rates are expected to lead the way in 2020, with downside risks somewhat diminished and higher repricing likely</li> <li>10-year rates are expected to move from 2.0% at the end of 2019 to 1.8% in 2020</li> <li>Fed actions freed other central banks to ease, and with the exception of China, many are also expected to put rate actions on hold next year</li> </ul>  |
| BlackRock                        | Neutral     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The Fed is not expected to cut rates by a further quarter percentage point this year</li> <li>Market expectations of Fed easing look excessive</li> <li>This, coupled with the flatness of the yield curve, leaves the broker cautious on Treasury valuations</li> <li>The broker sees long-term government bonds as an effective ballast against risk asset selloffs</li> </ul>  |
| Schroders                        | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>US 10-year Treasury yields are expected to remain well below 3% in 2020</li> <li>The liquidity provided by the US Fed, has reduced the risk of recession, but lending by commercial banks remains subdued</li> <li>US Treasuries have a higher sensitivity to economic risks; that is, they tend to outperform other bonds during a slowdown</li> <li>Pension funds continue to de-risk - This means they are reducing exposure to riskier assets such as equities in favour of more stable assets such as bonds that provide a yield</li> <li>This demand for bonds stops yields from rising significantly</li> </ul>  |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The Fed looks set to take a wait-and-see approach to policy and the economy in 2020 after delivering three rate cuts in 2019</li> <li>Any chance for a resumption of the rate hike cycle is likely a 2021 event, at the earliest</li> <li>Recent yield curve inversions raise the risk of such an event, but the Fed's rate cuts have achieved the goal of re-steepening yield curves and are likely sufficient to extend the economic cycle</li> <li>As economic risks remain slightly biased to the downside, so too is the outlook for yields</li> <li>10-year Treasury could establish a new all-time low—which stands at 1.36% from 2016—largely caused by the gravitational pull of negative global yields, slowing growth and low inflation</li> </ul> |

Consensus Target for German 10 Year

German 10 Year Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

Spread Graph for German 10 Yr- 3 month and 30 Yr-10 Yr

Positive View

- The resumption of asset purchases by the ECB
- Yields look attractive for hedged USD-based investors, thanks to the hefty US-Euro interest rate differential
- A new political coalition in Italy has raised the ongoing search for yields

Negative View

- Rates and bond yields are expected to creep up very gradually but stay low
- Monetary policy is expected to be on pause for a while
- Continuing soft economic data may warrant an additional interest rate cut or extension of quantitative easing

German 10 Year Target Yield for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

Italy 10 Year Target Yield for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |             | Views (Last one month)  |
|----------------------------------|-------------|---|
| Candrium Investments             | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Christine Lagarde has begun her tenure as President of the ECB</li> <li>She faces two major challenges: Healing the rift between the policy makers of the Governing Council and national governments still being reluctant to take over the baton with fiscal stimulus policies</li> <li>Rates and bond yields are expected to creep up very gradually but stay low</li> </ul>   |
| BlackRock                        | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The resumption of asset purchases by the ECB supports the overweight stance, particularly in non-core markets</li> <li>A relatively steep yield curve, particularly in these countries, is a plus for Euro area investors</li> <li>Yields look attractive for hedged US Dollar-based investors, thanks to the hefty US-Euro interest rate differential</li> </ul>  |
| Morgan Stanley                   | Bullish     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A rise is expected in longer-maturity German Bund yields</li> <li>The probability of higher yields in the 2-year and 5-year maturities remains fairly low and any increase in yields will be in the 10-year and 30-year Bunds</li> </ul>   |
| Amundi Pioneer                   | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Among European government bonds, the broker remains constructive on the main peripheral European countries (Spain and Italy)</li> <li>It is fuelled by ECB action, a new political coalition in Italy and the ongoing search for yield</li> <li>Curves are expected to flatten on the back of persistent yield hunting</li> </ul>  |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Neutral     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>With a new ECB President and a substantial stimulus package as a departing gift from outgoing President Mario Draghi, monetary policy is expected to be on pause for a while</li> <li>Continuing soft economic data may warrant an additional interest rate cut or extension of quantitative easing</li> <li>There is an expectation that individual Euro area countries may provide a fiscal boost to their domestic economies</li> <li>This depends on the appetite of each government for stimulus and the budgetary restrictions of the EU Commission</li> </ul> |

US Dollar Index

*Target with respect to actual level

EURUSD

*Target with respect to actual level

GBPUSD

*Target with respect to actual level

USDJPY

*Target with respect to actual level

Positive View

- Safe-haven demand emanating from trade tensions
- A resilient domestic economy against a backdrop of slowing global growth

Negative View

- Large fiscal and current account deficits in the US
- Dovish Fed

Positive View

- After delivering a stimulus package, the ECB could remain on hold through most of 2020
- Eurozone's large current account surplus

Negative View

- Economic activity slows and continues to disappoint
- Eurozone assets show a poor risk/return profile

Positive View

- The BoE continues to push back suggestions of future rate cuts
- The GBP is substantially undervalued and holds appreciation potential

Negative View

- Political turmoil
- Potential amendments to the existing bill remains on the table

Positive View

- Japan's ultraloose policy could persist through 2020
- Japanese investor appetite for unhedged higher-yielding assets abroad could cap gains

Negative View

- A resolution to the trade war could see the USD weaken, given its counter-cyclical tendency
- The JPY is substantially undervalued

US

|                 |                       |
|-----------------|-----------------------|
| GDP Annualised  | 2.1% (Q3 2019)        |
| Inflation (YoY) | 2.1% (November)       |
| Trade Balance   | -$47.20 bn (October) |

Eurozone

|                 |                       |
|-----------------|-----------------------|
| GDP Annualised  | 1.2% (Q3 2019)        |
| Inflation (YoY) | 1.0% (November)       |
| Trade Balance   | €18.30 bn (September) |

UK

|                 |                      |
|-----------------|----------------------|
| GDP Annualised  | 0.7% (Q3 2019)       |
| Inflation (YoY) | 1.5% (October)       |
| Trade Balance   | -£14.49 bn (October) |

Japan

|                 |                     |
|-----------------|---------------------|
| GDP Annualised  | 0.2% (Q3 2019)      |
| Inflation (YoY) | 0.2% (October)      |
| Trade Balance   | ¥17.30 bn (October) |

US Dollar Index Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|------------|--|
| RBC Wealth Management            | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The USD continued to grind higher in 2019 despite a dovish Fed, thanks to safe-haven demand emanating from trade tensions and a resilient domestic economy against a backdrop of slowing global growth</li> <li>Although US economic growth could slow in 2020, so long as this does not derail the broad economic expansion narrative, the USD should remain supported</li> </ul>  |
| Amundi Pioneer                   | Bearish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The upside scenario (with concerns on growth dissipating) needs to materialise or the US-China trade dispute to soften (with CNY rallying) before there will be a sustained USD plunge</li> <li>In that case, the era of King USD will finally end</li> </ul>   |
| Citibank                         | Bearish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The USD is expected to trade near current levels into 2020 against most major currencies</li> <li>Longer-term, the USD's advance is running out of steam</li> <li>Large fiscal and current account deficits in the US</li> </ul>  |
| Neuberger Berman                 | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The US looks likely to maintain a growth gap over the rest of the developed world</li> <li>A rise in geopolitical and political risks is generating demand for USD-denominated assets</li> <li>Risks to the view include a re-convergence of global growth; positive news on the US-China trade talks; the already long position held by market participants; long-term overvaluation on PPP metrics and the US twin deficit</li> </ul> |
| Standard Chartered Bank          | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Growth and rate differentials to narrow</li> <li>The USD has remained relatively resilient on the back of the US's strong cyclical story</li> <li>Tight USD liquidity and capital flows have remained USD-supportive</li> </ul>   |

EURUSD Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |             | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|-------------|--|
| Bank of America                  | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The EUR should benefit from a resolution of Brexit uncertainty</li> <li>The USD is expected to weaken in 2020 with diminishing policy uncertainty</li> </ul>  |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Neutral     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Euro weakness prevailed through 2019 as economic activity slowed and continued to disappoint</li> <li>After delivering a comprehensive stimulus package, the ECB could remain on hold through most of 2020, limiting downward pressure on the EUR</li> <li>But the challenging growth outlook points to little impetus for a material EUR recovery for now</li> </ul> |
| Mizuho Bank                      | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The eurozone economy is clearly slowing</li> <li>The Eurozone bank lending survey also suggests that lending to business has continued to stall</li> <li>With the markets still facing perpetual Brexit uncertainty, the EUR/USD pair is expected to continue trading with a heavy topside</li> </ul>   |
| Union Bancaire Privee (UBP)      | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>EUR/USD is expected to gradually appreciate over the course of 2020, reflecting USD weakness rather than specific EUR strength</li> <li>Eurozone assets show a comparatively poor risk/return profile</li> <li>The Eurozone current account surplus will encourage corporates to increase EUR purchases</li> </ul>  |
| Neuberger Berman                 | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The large negative carry already discourages long positions and the ECB has recently adopted a still more dovish stance</li> <li>European Purchasing Managers' Indices are still weak</li> <li>Brexit risk is still weighing on the currency</li> </ul>   |

GBPUSD Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)  |
|----------------------------------|------------|---|
| UBS Asset Management             | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The GBP is substantially undervalued and thus offers significant appreciation potential over the coming years</li> <li>It outweighs the benefits of currency hedging</li> </ul>  |
| Barclays                         | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>GBP is expected to remain volatile over the medium term</li> <li>Brexit extension</li> <li>Potential amendments to the existing bill remain on the table</li> <li>However, the GBP is expected to eventually strengthen on the back of a positive resolution</li> </ul>  |
| Neuberger Berman                 | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The GBP appears undervalued based on PPP measures</li> <li>Despite Brexit uncertainty, UK's job creation and wages have been stronger than expected and consumption activity has remained remarkably healthy</li> <li>The BoE is unlikely to make a move in either direction until there is clarity on Brexit</li> </ul> |
| Standard Chartered Bank          | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Risk-reward in the GBP remains attractive as odds of a 'no-deal' Brexit has receded</li> </ul>   |
| Russel Investments               | Neutral    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>GBP is undervalued</li> <li>It is expected to remain volatile around Brexit uncertainty</li> </ul>   |
| Citibank                         | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Bearish GBP catalysts have moderated</li> <li>A heavy reliance on the Liberal Democrats would limit the scope for radical policies</li> </ul>  |

USDJPY Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |             | Views (Last one month)  |
|----------------------------------|-------------|---|
| UBS Asset Management             | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The JPY is substantially undervalued and thus offers significant appreciation potential over the coming years</li> <li>It outweighs the benefits of currency hedging</li> </ul>  |
| Emirates NBD                     | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>JPY will continue to be supported by its appeal as a safe haven</li> <li>There are expectations of wide spread geopolitical uncertainty that has persisted through much of 2019</li> </ul>   |
| Mizuho Bank                      | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The USD/JPY pair will be swayed by the direction of US/China trade talks from here on</li> <li>Risk appetite will probably rise on swelling hopes as a partial US/China trade deal seems more likely, with the USD/JPY pair expected to break clearly through its 200-day moving average line</li> </ul> |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>External factors could be key drivers for the JPY</li> <li>Japan to deliver dovish forward guidance and ultraloose policy could persist through 2020</li> <li>Japanese investor appetite for unhedged higher-yielding assets abroad could cap gains</li> </ul>   |
| Union Bancaire Privee (UBP)      | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Trade war concerns add a layer of complexity to the picture</li> <li>USD will generally weaken on a trade-weighted basis</li> <li>A good performance is expected from the likes of JPY</li> </ul>  |
| Neuberger Berman                 | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Japan runs a current account surplus</li> <li>Long JPY remains attractive during periods of risk aversion and both PPP and real exchange rates suggest that the JPY is undervalued</li> <li>Japanese growth continues to be strong and extremely low unemployment should support inflation</li> </ul>    |

Gold Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

Brent Target by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level

Positive View

- High global uncertainty persists
- The confrontational international policy being conducted by the US is encouraging more countries to find alternative wealth savings in gold

Negative View

- The USD and the US economy look a lot better compared to other countries
- Loose monetary policy supports equity markets

Positive View

- Continued production cuts
- The impact of mounting geopolitical tensions is offsetting the effects of weakening economic sentiment

Negative View

- Iran's recent oil discovery
- The OPEC World Outlook has stated that there will be more US shale production
- Global growth concerns weigh on demand

Gold

|        | Q3 2018   | Q3 2019   |
|--------|-----------|-----------|
| Demand | 1,078.0 t | 1,107.9 t |
| Supply | 1,179.7 t | 1,222.3 t |

Brent

|  | August 2019 | September 2019 |
|--|-------------|----------------|
| US Production (thousand barrels per day) | 12,397      | 12,463         |
| US Supply (thousand barrels per day)     | 21,062      | 20,221         |

Gold Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |            | Views (Last one month)   |
|----------------------------------|------------|--|
| Barclays                         | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• High global uncertainty persists</li> <li>• Slowing global growth</li> <li>• Gold adds defensiveness in a diversified portfolio</li> <li>• Central banks' demand for the precious metal continues to grow</li> <li>• The confrontational international policy being conducted by the US is encouraging more countries to find alternative wealth savings in gold</li> </ul>   |
| ING                              | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gold prices in 2020 will be dictated by the same themes as 2019</li> <li>• Trade uncertainty and concerns over global growth give an upside to gold prices from current levels</li> <li>• The broker currently forecast that gold prices will average around US$1,475/oz over the course of 2020</li> </ul>  |
| IG                               | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gold prices remain within the descending channel from September, but there are signs that the trend may be starting to change</li> <li>• There is heightened uncertainty in financial markets due to increasing macroeconomic tensions, which increases the safe-haven appeal of gold</li> </ul>  |
| RBC Wealth Management            | Overweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The outcomes of the US-China trade dispute and Brexit should be key drivers of gold in 2020</li> <li>• Increase in investors' risk appetite could also play a role</li> </ul>   |
| Refinitiv GFMS                   | Bullish    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gold will continue to benefit from global economic concerns and political tensions, particularly should there be further escalation of the US-China trade conflict</li> <li>• There are fears of an economic downturn and central banks embarking upon more aggressive monetary measures</li> <li>• Even though the broker is projecting downward pressure on prices in 2020 and 2021, he does not rule out a move above $1,650 in the future</li> <li>• A weak fundamental picture and a strong USD will pose a major drag for gold prices</li> <li>• Prices are expected to average $1,455/oz in 2020 and $1,505/oz in 2021</li> </ul> |

Brent Target for Q4 2019 by Major IBs

*Target with respect to actual level; Latest values at extreme Right

| Market Experts/ Brokers/ Analyst |             | Views (Last one month)  |
|----------------------------------|-------------|---|
| Bank of America                  | Bullish     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Strong co-operation of oil producing nations with OPEC</li> <li>Positive economic developments such as a US-China trade deal could push Brent to $70 a barrel before 2Q20</li> </ul>  |
| LBBW                             | Bearish     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Oil prices will remain subdued in 2020 as growth concerns weigh on demand</li> <li>Crude glut</li> <li>Brent crude is expected to average $62.50 a barrel in 2020</li> </ul>  |
| Oanda                            | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>US shale growth will slow in 2020</li> <li>Prices should be fairly supported in the first half of 2020</li> </ul>  |
| Barclays                         | Underweight | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The oil market is likely to be stuck in a tug of war between less supportive fundamentals and geopolitical events and tensions in the Middle East</li> <li>Oil demand in 2020 will likely remain lacklustre</li> <li>However, inventories declined in the second half of 2019 and the tense geopolitical environment is likely to keep adding a premium on the oil price throughout 2020</li> <li>Oil prices will stay in a wide range of around $60 per barrel in the next twelve months.</li> </ul> |
| IG                               | Neutral     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The outlook for crude oil prices is constructive</li> <li>However, strong gains are unlikely until a “phase one” trade deal is reached between the US and China</li> </ul>   |
| Well Fargo                       | Overweight  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Trade and global growth developments will likely be the main macro commodity drivers for the balance of 2019</li> <li>Continuity of planned and potential production cuts by key producers</li> </ul>  |
| KPMG                             | Bearish     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The OPEC World outlook has stated that there will be more US shale production</li> <li>Iran has discovered an oil field in the country’s South</li> <li>Markets have overly priced in demand side risk</li> <li>Oil prices are expected to drop below $60 before the end of the year and will stay there through the first half of next year</li> </ul>   |

About Decimal Point Analytics

Decimal Point Analytics is a Financial Research and Analytics company. Decimal Point Analytics does not conduct investment business and as such does not hold positions in securities mentioned in this report. However its directors, officers, employees and contractors may have positions in any or related sectors mentioned in this report.

We offer customised research and analytics solutions for entities across the spectrum of financial markets globally. Our clientele includes investment banks, institutional asset managers, private equity, wealth managers, independent research companies, hedge funds, broker dealers, et al, across the globe. Our capabilities have been efficiently utilized by clients in the key areas of Investment Research, Sector Specific Research, Analysis and Modeling in various segments ranging from Equity Research, Portfolio Management, Fixed Income and Strategic Investment Advisory. Our domain knowledge in financial markets, coupled with seamless delivery capabilities, has enabled our clients to improve their decision making process, raise productivity and sharpen their competitive edge thus saving on time and cost and further enhancing the quality of their processes.

INDIA

5A, B-Wing, Trade Star Building,
J.B. Nagar, Andheri-Kurla Road,
Andheri (E), Mumbai - 400 059
Maharashtra, India
Phone: + 91 22 4919 5200
Fax: + 91 22 3001 5250
Email: info@decimalpointanalytics.com

UK

1st Floor, 99 Bishopsgate,
London, EC2M 3XD,
United Kingdom
Tel: +44 20 3286 1998

US

17 State Street,
Suite 4000, New York,
NY 10004 U.S.A.
Tel.: +1 (917) 341 3218

Disclaimer

This document has been prepared exclusively for the benefit and internal use of the Recipient by Decimal Point Analytics Private Limited (DPA), and its contents may not be used for any other purpose without the prior written consent of DPA. DPA is not making any recommendation, solicitation, or offer for any securities mentioned in the report, and is also not responsible for suitability of such securities for any purpose, investment or otherwise.

The information in this document reflects our opinion as of the date of the document, and may change with changes in market conditions. All data included in the report have been obtained from sources considered reliable, without independent verification of the accuracy or completeness of the information. DPA as such cannot and does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of the data and information. The returns indicated, including future projections, in the investment report are not guaranteed in any manner and may not be achieved. It is the sole responsibility of the recipient, as a professional organization, to exercise professional due diligence in ensuring suitability of investment. Decimal Point Analytics Pvt. Ltd. shall not be responsible for any loss suffered by the user.